Accessible only by private boat or passenger ferry, Bald Head Island, North Carolina, has more than 1100 homes in five distinct environments, with nearly 300 full-time residents. Cars are prohibited on the island, so residents and visitors use golf carts, bikes, or their own two feet to go to dinner, the beach and retail stores, or to visit “Old Baldy,” the Island’s famous lighthouse.

Islanders enjoy luxurious amenities and modern conveniences. Bald Head is home to an 18-hole, seaside, championship golf course with clubhouse facilities, croquet, marina, tennis courts, swimming pools, restaurants, snack bars and hours of peaceful relaxation. There are several boutiques, and a fully stocked market, deli, hardware and wine store, and much more—along with some of the best boating and fishing in the Country.

Located at the mouth of the Cape Fear River, and bordered by the Atlantic Ocean, Bald Head Island is home to pristine waters, sea turtles, forests, fish, birds, wildlife, Spanish moss, tall oak trees, and everything necessary for a truly restful getaway.
